INTERNET SITES

Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of Canada

<http://www.ccfc.ca>

The CCFC is a national not-for-profit organization, whose mission is to find the cure for inflammatory bowel disease by raising funds for medical research. The Foundation provides general information about inflammatory bowel disease at the site. It also produces a number of useful brochures on the disorders, which may be downloaded or ordered from the Foundation.

The United Ostomy Association of Canada

<http://www.ostomycanada.ca>

The UOAC helps those who have had ostomies by providing emotional support, practical help, and informational services. The organization produces many useful publications, which may be ordered online. There is also an excellent frequently asked questions section, and a list of support groups across the country, with full contact information.

Canadian Cancer Society

<http://www.cancer.ca>

At the Canadian Cancer Society opening page, choose 'Canada-wide' from the list in the left hand column. Then use the drop down menu under 'Quick Links' in the right hand column to select either Colorectal or Stomach Cancer. You will be presented with comprehensive information about the diseases, including symptoms, diagnosis, staging, and treatment.

National Digestive Diseases Information Clearinghouse

<http://digestive.niddk.nih.gov>

NDDIC is part of the National Institutes of Health in the U.S. Its function is to disseminate information about digestive diseases to the general public. Click on 'Digestive Diseases' at the homepage to access a comprehensive list of fact sheets available for all types of digestive disorders. These may be downloaded directly from the site. Larger quantities can be ordered online for a small charge.

The Patient UK

<http://www.patient.co.uk>

This site provides evidence based patient information on a wide range of health, disease and related issues. At the homepage, click on 'Information leaflets', in the left hand column. At the resulting page, select Gut / Bowel / Stomach from the category list to retrieve over 40 different fact sheets on these types of conditions.
