Car Seat Safety

What do I need to know about car seats?

- Too many children have been seriously injured or killed in a sudden stop or crash because they haven't been properly buckled up, or not buckled up at all, when riding in a car. PLEASE, take a few extra minutes to make sure your child is properly buckled up in a car seat appropriate for their height and weight.
- NOT ONLY IS IT IMPORTANT FOR THE SAFETY OF YOUR CHILD, IT IS THE LAW!
- The driver is responsible to make sure all passengers have a seat belt fastened and will be held liable should any accident occur.
- Not all car seats and seat belts are the same. Choose a child restraint system that is appropriate for your child and for your car.
